Web-Programmer for Cloud Software & Web-Designer Full Time (100%) in an International Company

Your work is more than just a job. It is your mission in life.

von waldkirch PR&NEW MEDIA GmbH is one of the leading web- and advertising agencies in Zurich, Switzerland, with several international branches in Europe and Asia. We produce high quality web-solutions (Websites, Intranets, Platforms), own software products (www.collectr.eu, www.canyouzee.me), Corporate Communications, and advertising movies. Besides that we are working on several own digital start-ups.

At the moment, we are hiring talented and motivated young people in the field of web-programming throughout Iran. We are looking for people who are hungry to join an international company on a long-term basis. You should be interested not only in realizing clients projects, but also in working on our software solutions and our digital start-up projects, using latest web technologies.

What you should bring

Soft Facts

- You are fast minded and a fast learner
- You are eager to learn new technologies in the web
- You have a passion for details - you want to deliver your work in a perfect way
- You never hesitate to go the extra-mile for a good project
- You want to use your personal talent for your good future
- You are hungry for new projects

Hard Facts

- You are familiar with all the necessary web technologies (Html, CSS etc.)
- You heard before of NodeJS, Git, WebRTC, WebGL, CouchDB etc.
- You are very good in JavaScript
- You are fluent in english

As you see, we don't need to know what kind of university degree you have or what your theoretical thesis was. We are interested in your work references and your ability to use learnt technologies in real projects.

We have a headquarter and a team in Iran. Nevertheless, this position is described as 'Remote Programming'. So you need your own computer, webcam, fast (!) internet access and a quiet workspace. In the beginning all the international communication will be held by video chat, the local communication by our local team. You can be located anywhere in Iran.

What we offer

- We offer you a position fitting to your knowledge (medium to senior programmer) in an international team.
- We offer you a very competitive salary due to your knowledge and production level as well as an interesting bonus system.
- We offer you the possibility to learn from the best programmers in the field.
- We offer you a great and very interesting future.

If you want to take this chance, send us your english resume, and your personal letter of motivation in english. We are not interested in standard letters copied from the web - tell us something about yourself, about your past, your goals and dreams in life so we can get a first impression from you.

Send it to info@vonwaldkirch.com
